COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Samples from five elm trees have been forwarded to the State Entomologist for analysis to determine if Dutch Elm disease is present. Three of the trees are located in the Kimball Park area, one at the upper end of Broad St., and one at West Bethel. Results of the test will be published when notification is received from the laboratory.

Excise tax books have been received for 1962. Special forms for the new initial plates may be obtained at the Town Office any time, but they will not be accepted by the Secretary of State until Sept. 18. However the application must be filed no later than November 1st. In addition to the registration fee of $15 an additional charge of $10 is made for the new plates. The Paradise Street sewer project started last Thursday is progressing satisfactorily. It is planned to start the reconstruction of Chapman Street the third week of this month. The application of cement to stabilize the base is tentatively planned for Aug. 28th and 29th.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

TO OPEN BIDS AUG. 23 ON BATCHELDERS GRANT-STOW ROAD PROJECT

The State Highway Commission will open bids August 23d for the resurfacing of a section of Route 113 in the White Mountain National Forest.

The project is for the purpose of improving four miles of Route 113 in the vicinity of Evans Notch. The section begins at the end of a recently paved portion in Batchelders Grant and extends southwestward into Stow to the Maine-New Hampshire border. The contract calls for a gravel surface course, a paver mixed bituminous surface, deepening the ditches to improve the drainage, adding gravel to the shoulders to bring them up to the new grade and other incidental work. The completed highway will have a 16-foot pavement and 1½-foot gravel shoulders.

Since the section of highway being improved is in a national forest it will be financed with 100% federal funds.

Richard Emmons of Burlington, Vt., spent the week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Browne, Mrs. Emmons and children, Linda, Nancy and Rekie, returned with him after spending a week here.

In the special town election Wednesday Robert Warren Hastings was elected selectman and assessor to fill the term of the late Harold G. Bennett, receiving 93 of the 101 ballots cast. This term expires next March.

Sunday River Skiway Expansion Includes New Lift, Long Trails

Sunday River Skiway, an area which came to the fore last winter because it had good snow cover when most other ski areas in New England were washed out, is undergoing a major expansion for this winter. This Bethel resort has become known for its reliable powder snow and is now planning to tap the upper half of its mountain, where until now the snow has lain deep, powdery and untouched.

A second T-bar lift will run 2200 feet from the top of the present lift to the snowfields on the summit of the mountain. This will open a 3,000 foot intermediate trail leading to the top of the present Cascades trail and will give the Sunday Punch a total length of 7200 feet, a welcome addition to the expert. The piece de resistance, however, will be a new two and one-quarter mile novice trail running from the summit of the mountain down to the lodge at the foot. The novice skier will now be able to travel to the snowfields and take in the spectacular panoramic view before returning to the base station at his own pace on a trail which he can handle confidently.

A major portion of the work has already been done on two of these trails, and the lift line is cleared and graded for installation of the new T-bar this fall. In addition to these major changes, the lower trails have been groomed to a fare-thee-well with hand grading and seeding, the parking lot is being expanded, and the Sun-Ri Ski Shop is relocated in its own chalet near the lodge.

Last season Sunday River provided 112 days of skiing with consistently good to excellent conditions. Despite a 52% increase in lift revenue, week end waiting lines at the lift average only seven minutes. Family groups predominate at the area, and they loyally return to take advantage of the superb skiing and friendly atmosphere they find at Sunday River.

With the new lift making accessible the snowfields and open glades of the upper mountain, Sunday River takes its place as one of the East's finest major areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker and family tented at Small Point over the week end. On Saturday Vicky Parker was taken to the Bath Memorial Hospital where she underwent an appendectomy. She arrived home in Bethel on Wednesday and is under the care of Dr. Young.

MRS. FANNIE C. CARTER

Mrs. Fannie Capen Carter died Saturday at her home on Elm Street.

Born Nov. 7, 1879, daughter of Edward A. and Mary Jane Abbott Capen, she was a lifelong resident of Bethel and a member of the WSCS of the Methodist Church.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Bailey; four sons, Edward, Richard, Stanley, and Paul, Bethel; a sister, Miss Alice Capen; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Bethel Methodist Church, Rev. Richard Hamilton officiating. Burial was in the Middle Intervale cemetery. Bearers were Thomas and Timothy Carter, Howard and John Gunther.

We mourn the passing of a well loved woman.

Daughter of Bethel pioneers she lived a long and useful life in her native town.

Neighborhood ties were closely knit in Middle Intervale and her life long love of childhood friends was friendship at its best. They returned her loyalty and mourn her as a sister. She had the warm satisfaction of being surrounded by her immediate family and her impartial love and kindness embraced all in-laws along with her children.

When failing vision limited her activities she did not complain or despair. She turned to less exacting handicrafts and created creditable rugs in her leisure time. And if success consists of a cheerful outlook, the love of all, (she had no enemy), joy in the service of her church, happiness in daily living and serene contentment, then the life of Fannie Capen Carter was crowned with success.

Beside her husband, Edward Mellen Carter, who died in 1922, she rests for eternity in beautiful Middle Intervale Burying Grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennagh and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Kennagh and family returned home from Harpswell Saturday where they had been spending a week.

MAGAZINE SEES INCREASE IN STATE, LOCAL TAXES

Higher Spending at Local Levels Assures Rate Hikes in Many Areas

State and local governments will be spending at least 50 percent more in 1970 than they did in 1960, or more than 75 billion dollars, and taxes to finance the spending will grow proportionately, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the current issue of the magazine reports that state and local taxes have climbed over 10 per cent in the last four years and over 40 percent since 1963, and "the end is nowhere in sight."

Although not all the money for state and local spending comes from local levies, the article points out that more than two-thirds of 1959's 49 billion dollar outlay was financed by taxes. "Tax rate increases come in waves," the magazine notes. "Because of political resistance, communities tend to lag behind in meeting their requirements. Then as pressures build up to insurmountable proportions, governments try to catch up all at once."

From all present signs, the article adds, the next big tax year should come around 1963 or 1964, in the following general patterns:

Taxes in big urban complexes will go up quicker than in towns or rural areas, as people keep migrating toward the cities.

Taxes in suburbs will go up faster than in adjacent cities. Though cities want to rebuild to halt inner decay, they can raise taxes only so much lest they scare out even more people.

Tax rates in industrial states will increase more rapidly than in rural states, again reflecting the population movement.

Taxes in big rural states will go up more than in smaller ones. Such states as Montana, Idaho, and Wyoming must tax a sparse population to finance roads across the wide-open spaces.

As for the kinds of taxes which will climb the most, the editors of the magazine foresee increases in the following: general sales tax, personal income tax; special sales taxes, with gas taxes likely to increase the most, liquor taxes the least; property tax, local income taxes.

If the outlook seems bleak, the article concludes, look at the brighter side: "You may have to shell out more, but your children will go to better schools, you'll drive on better roads, you'll get better hospital care. For taxes are the price of progress."

What a man thinks of himself, that it is which indicates his fate.

—Henry David Thoreau

SCHOOL NEWS

Parents of children entering the Village Primary—Junior Primary grade in September should register their children with Mrs. Ethel Bisbee at her home. Each child registered should have a birth certificate as evidence of date of birth.

Parents are requested to register all children by August 24. This will permit parents to discuss with the teacher the school program and avoid the need to register a child on the opening day of school.

Dread the Hay Fever Season?

More than 500,000 people have been helped by the electronic miracle: Puritron! They feel better, work better, breathe cleaner purer air.

Ask your family doctor or allergist about Puritron. More than half a million people swear by it. They say it helps. How? Electronically: without window, vent or fan. It pulls in air heavy with pollen (smoke, dust, grease and odors, too). Filters it. Passes it over special electronic tubes. Then out into the room: with these irritants removed. You breathe cleaner, purer, fresher air. You sleep better, feel better with a Puritron around. Portable: plug it in. Get it for a $39.95 10-day trial.

Then and Now in Bethel... 30 Years' Changes Noted

Mention was made in the Citizen last week of the edition of the Citizen dated August 3, 1931, which told in detail of the principal activities of the Bethel of that time. During the years of course it is not surprising that many changes may be noted.

Beginning at Railroad Street was the Robertson Service Station, then run by Edward N. Robertson and his son, Frank. This is now known as Bucky's Service Station, and has been in charge of Albert W. Buck since 1946.

At the foot of Main Street was the grain store of the J. B. Ham Co. Since the Ham occupancy this building has housed the lumber and building supply businesses of Leslie E. Davis and Charles E. Merrill and since the first of this year Davis Building Supply—Stanley E. Davis, owner, at the rear of the former Jordan store was the grain store of Roy C. Moore.

Thirty years ago the garage of Herrick Brothers Co. was a busy place, where the Model A Ford was selling at f. o. b. prices of $430 to $630. Next door was the monument works of E. E. Whitney, where for more than 40 years he carried on an extensive business. This is the site now of the Roadside Grille, or Martha's, owner-operated by Mr. and Mrs. William Von Zint. Conner's Garage on Mechanic Street is operated by Harold Conner, son of Parker Conner, the owner in 1931.

The Sudbury Inn, then known as Maple Inn, was carried on by Frank E. Donahue. Since that time it has had several owner-managers and last winter was purchased by Norman Greig and Howard Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Greig are managing the inn. The Star Lunch was operated in 1931 by Frank Flint. This was in the location just previously used for the sale of Durant and Star cars by Ann Sessions and before then as a laundry by William Garey. It is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Mills.

Bryant's Market was in the same place 30 years ago. Although at that time it was much larger than its original size when the site was first used by the Souder, Chauncey C. Bryant, 80 years ago, its floor space has since doubled in size. It has now bridged the gap to the building then occupied by Hose Company, No. 1, and Charles L. Davis as a farm implement store, and the entire space is in use. William C. Bryant was the owner in 1931. Since then his son, Myron, carried on several years and now this oldest business in town is in the hands of Richard Bryant, making the fourth generation in the same place.

Fred Hall was located in the same barber shop at that time, although he has not been there all the years between, and next door the First National Store, managed by Norman Hall, had the quarters of the present Ruth's Beauty Shop of Mrs. Ruth Lord. The present A & P Store building seems to have been vacant at that time, although it had been bought by M. A. Naimy and two stores finished off in the former grain mill building.

The present location of the post office was then the store of M. A. Naimy and the A. & P. store. The Bethel Spa's location had apparently been vacant since the fall before when the bakery of Charles Seaver closed after six years' operation. In the wooden building next door, raised in 1930, was a barber shop and fruit store of Dave Fieldman. The barber shop and Harvey's Restaurant of today probably were vacant.

Across the street the hardware store, then owned by D. Grover Brooks, is now carried on by his sons, Hans and Donald, as Brooks Brothers, Inc. The business is much larger than it was 30 years ago and has expanded to include the distribution of gasoline, heating oils and bottled gas. Up-street now is the office of Dr. G. L. Kneeland, osteopath and optometrist, at his home which in 1931 was the residence of Wallace Warren.

Across the street is the Thunderbolt Motor Inn, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Max Zeilen. This replaces the Bethel Theatre which was built by Mr. Zeilen in 1940 and operated by him until three years ago.

The Central Alleva and Central Taxi of Jesse B. Chapman is on the location of his Central Service Station 20 years ago. At the rear of the service station a thriving lumber and building supply business had been developed by Herbert I. Bean. This was bought by L. E. Davis and moved to a building on the site of the Gould Academy parking area on Elm Street.

Since 1936 Brown's Variety Store has occupied the store at Main and Spring Streets where in 1931 Bean & Fox Co. had a complete general store. Across the street on the corner of Main and Elm, was the lawn of Mrs. J. M. Philbrook, where now Ernest Angevine sells and services chain saws and has a machine shop and repair business. The building was built by Clarence Bennett, replacing one which burned, and was in use for Chevrolet sales and service until the purchase of the former Blake Garage property below the railroad station.

In 1931 Edward P. Lyon's store was in the present quarters of the Casco Bank & Trust Co. The movies of Harvey Bragdon were shown upstairs in Odeon Hall. The Bethel Savings Bank was in the same place as now, while the law offices of Herrick and Park were in the rear. Farther back in the Cole Block the Citizen (Carl Brown, editor) was in the same place, where it has been since established as the Bethel News in 1935.

Across Main Street in the one-time Swift Block the barber shop now of Stanley Fox had been carried on for nearly 30 years by Clarence W. Hall. William E. Boxerman was the proprietor of the store now known as Boxerman's Pharmacy, and next door was the post office where the Shoe Rack of Mrs. Ruby Rolfe is now. The present home of the American Legion and Auxiliary was then the shoe repair shop of Thomas LaRue and Allen's Shoe Store.

The quarters of the Bethel Laundromat were then the hardware store of John P. Butta. Others in business there since 1931 include the Specialty Shop, Warren Bean, Roland Kneeland, the post office, and Wheeler Brothers men cutting shop. The present home of Henry Hastings and family in the white building on the corner was the home and studio of Frank A. Goddard, photographer and operator-clerk at the Grand Trunk station. The law office of Mr. Hastings in the same building was that of his father, Henry Hastings, who had succeeded to the practice of Richard Frye 32 years before.

The corner store of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shaw, known as Shaw's Market, was for many years that of the L. W. Ramoell company. The dental office of Dr. E. Linwood Brown was over the store. Dr. John W. Trinward purchased the office and practice of Dr. Brown and later moved down Main Street to rooms over the Spa. Around the corner on Church Street Cotton's Restaurant has succeeded that of Farwell & Wright.

The Specialty Shop's location, around the corner in the brick block on Broad Street, was then the millinery store of Miss L. M. Stearns, who lived in the apartment upstairs where the Cherie Beauty and Slenderama Salon of Miss Geneva Johnston is now located. Facing this building is the Community Room and Bethel fire department. The Community Room was for many years the store of Ceylon Howe & Son, while the center of the three section building housed the fire department as now and the American Legion rooms were upstairs. Nearby, the Luce Oil Company last year succeeded Ruth Carver Ames as Shell oil distributors in this part of the state. Thirty years ago this was the store and office of Irving L. Carver whose oil business then had expanded over a large territory.

The Bethel Inn, then open the year round, was managed by Samuel N. Blackwood, now of Florida. Since 1936 the inn has been under the owner-management of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Butler. Bethel Inn, then recently named by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clemens, was in business in Mayville. Now closed for a complete renovation the inn will reopen this fall as the Norseman Inn with new owner-managers, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Wiese. For many years Bethaven was owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyker.

New businesses in town since 1931 not already mentioned include that of Robert Billings who bought the store and building of Ernest Buck on Railroad Street. This was established as a general store and grain business by Nilex Kellogg some 20 years ago. Mr. Billings developed a business in sporting goods before undertaking the larger project. Steve's Garage on the corner of Summer and Mechanic Streets, is run by Ronald Stevens. Lowell's Garage on Summer Street, Edward Lowell, proprietor, takes care of welding and much heavy equipment work.

Starting with chain saws a few years ago, the business of Lloyd B. Lowell has seen great growth. Beside the original enterprise near his home on the Locke Mills road, he has built a large Western Auto Associates store on the same lot where a attractive line of goods is in stock. In the same locality is the repair service of Clayton Crockett, who was formerly associated with his father, Ray Crockett, in the garage. He is noted for expert work on television and radio sets, all appliances and other mechanical or electrical work.

During the last 30 years fires have taken the mills of H. F. Thurston & Son (dowels), F. J. Tyler (boxes), Bethel Dowel Corporation, Newton & Teobets (dowels), L. E. Davis (lumber) and Grafton Lumber Company, but in several instances the industries have grown much larger than before. Manufacturers of importance which were not here 30 years ago should include P. H. Chadbourn & Co., Hanover Dowel Company (where N. S. Stowell & Co. were in 1931), Ernest G. Blake, Kendall Dowel Mill, and Roger Favreau.

During the past 30 years more than 80 homes have been built in Bethel, most of them in the past 10 years. Against this growth may be noted the destruction of about 20 buildings, a dozen of which were in the way of Gould Academy's expansion.

CHAPMAN COMPLETES LAND GRADING PROJECT

The land grading project just finished at the William Chapman farm on the North-west Bethel road clearly demonstrates the value and benefits derived from the use of modern equipment such as land scrapers and levelers when applied to some of a farmer's land management problems.

In the course of the Chapman operation approximately 1500 lineal feet of "chutes" or ravines varying in depth from 1 foot to 5 feet were filled from areas of higher elevations in the field, and the entire area graded to a single outlet to take care of surplus water.

Previous to grading, this field had been usable only as pasture. The chutes retained water most of the year. Large trees grew along the edges and native meadow grass was the only forage produced.

An estimated 12 cords of wood was removed to start the renovation.

This was followed by a complete survey by Oxford County Soil Conservation District technicians to determine the amount of cuts and fills necessary.

A TD-9 bulldozer worked several days "roughing out" the area followed by the district scraper which moved earth to spots still below planned grade. The district leveler applied the final touch by smoothing to final grade. The field will now be capable of producing any field crop suitable to the area.

MOLLYCKETT DAY ART SHOW COMMENTARY

Over three hundred people attended Bethel's 2nd exhibit by local painters and seemed to thoroughly enjoy it. All of the 54 pictures received votes which were cast for the picture liked the best. Number 18 by Betty Anderson received the most. This was an atmospheric water scene, a sensitive portrayal of nature in a subdued and haunting mood, the edge of a pond in the mist with the water gently lapping the shore. This is a serene picture which might suggest to anyone some remembered favorite scene of his own. Second in popularity was Winona Davis' "Shelburne Birchess," a realistic record of a popular subject, drawn with warm tones and the lovely autumn glow we all enjoy. Other popular pictures were Shirley Keenan's "Sunrise at Moosehead Lake"; Rose Rozek's "Lake Chocorua"; Lucia Tikander's "Red House"; Walter Clark's "Winter Scene"; Claus Wiese's "Seascape".

Interesting was Edith Howe's "Bryce Canyon" the decorative treatment of the trees suggestive of a fabric design. Annie Nutting's delicate handling of "The Fox" pleased everyone. Jim Owen's two pieces showed much dash and gaiety. Two street scenes by Scottie Bowhay contributed local interest. The treatment of the trees and sky was imaginative. Marsh Webster gave a large outdoor scene feeling on a very small canvas with her scene at Clearwater Pond, Farmington. Herchel Gline's two canvases showed skillful draftsmanship and next year we hope to see this talent used in an original painting. Those who enjoyed Mary Shaw's "The Angelus" would perhaps be interested in visiting the Millet room at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Geneva Johnston's "Spruce Harbor" gave a real feeling of being on the Maine coast on a fine day. Dennis Robertson's water scenes reflected a more somber mood. We are sorry that his pictures were entered too late to be listed on the program, as was Sam Timberlake's original Kitchen scene. We would have enjoyed this more if we had known the story behind it. The bold color and drawing of Georgia Brooks' "Autumn in New England" was in the spirit of an early primitive. We think it sporting of Maurice Brooks to exhibit his very first painting and look forward to seeing his next year's offering. Gloria Kneeland's "Down East" was reminiscent of Japanese brush painting. Clair Breenaham's girl in the red jerkin was well

TODAY'S Meditation

The Upper Room

O THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, August 10
Read Psalm 119:33-40
Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end. (Psalm 119:33).

The psalmist impresses us here in that the presence of God was real to him. He believed that the eternal God would accompany him through all the paths of life. This certainty was so real to him that he wanted his faith to find backing in the Word of God.

The Psalms marvelously anticipated the spirit of Christianity. Today we have a greater and better testimony of the presence of God. It came to us in the person of God made flesh, Jesus Christ. Through his personal presence He revealed the Father and declared all things to us. Today, as yesterday, the man of Christ should be completely consecrated to Him, always studying His Word and being fortified by His presence. Thus the Christian receives power to announce Christ by his testimony—Emmanuel, God with us.

PRAYER: We praise Thee, O heavenly Father, for the great testimony of ancient men of faith who were consecrated to Thee. We also praise and glorify Thee for the ineffable gift of Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, in His name we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day
In the Word of God, which is eternal wisdom, we find inspiration for our lives.

drawn and seemed to capture the mood of the sitter. Penny Davis' fashion illustrations and Connie Thurston's chrysalis highlights added variety. Jacques, the poodle, by Geneva Vail was handsome in color patterns and a lovely little dog. Barbara Young's seascape showed fine use of color to show the mood of the open sea.

"Lost Moment" by Searle, loaned by Bartlett Hutchinson was a most interesting addition to the exhibition. A paper beside the canvas explaining the symbolism afforded an understanding and added enjoyment to all who took the time to read it. (Most everyone did.) Mrs. Tibbetts' lovely floral arrangements were admired as much as the pictures. Bethel should be proud, not only in having such a large group of creative people, but also in having such a large group of enthusiastic spectators interested in watching the improvement made each year.

PIGEONS ARE CALLED CONTRIBUTING FACTOR IN A RARE DISEASE
City pigeons were pictured as a health menace by Mt. Sinai Hospital. Employees were ordered to discontinue feeding them.

Visitors were also being instructed not to feed the pigeons on hospital grounds.

"Pigeon droppings carry several fungi including one that is a major cause of a form of meningitis that can be fatal to humans," the hospital said.

However, most people were said to have a high resistance to the disease.

Behind the order is a protracted study throughout the city by two members of the hospital's microbiology staff that indicted pigeons in connection with mycotic meningitis in man, a brain disease with a high mortality rate.

The microbiologists who made the study were Dr. M. L. Littman and Dr. S. Stanley Schneerson.

A hospital spokesman said the report apparently had never been released to the press because of fear of antagonizing bird lovers.

A report of the study, however, was carried in The American Journal of Hygiene in January, 1959. —New York Times, July 19, 1961.

BETHEL LIBRARY ASSN. BUILDING FUND

The Bethel Library Association was organized on April 14, 1879, as an independent group of citizens interested in Town activities. In the 80 years of its life it has grown to its present size, over 8000 books, an annual loan rate of 5 books per person for the Town's 2400 population, and an income of just over $1000 from its invested funds.

The last winter has proved that the library must have a new roof. Not only have leaks occurred, but increased use of the library during the cold weather has resulted in the ice forming at the eaves letting water leak into the walls. Thus proper metal protection at the eaves is required. And once the new roof is completed the building must be painted.

The increasing number of children in the primary schools and the trend towards larger books and reference material for their use requires additional display racks. A visit to the library will quickly confirm this need.

Estimates indicate that a minimum of $1350.00 is required. The present invested funds of $14,431.80 cannot be used as the income is required to support the present services of the library. In recent years the Town has contributed $1000.00 a year, which with the Association income, permits the present services to be maintained.

The large majority of libraries in Maine are privately supported, Bethel is no exception. To meet our present responsibilities, the Trustees hope each resident will contribute, when contacted by a Trustee or Building Fund Committee member, his or her share

BUDGET-CONSCIOUS HOME BUILDER CAN SAVE WITH MAIL-ORDER PLANS

Ready-made house plans available from magazines, builders and mail-order plan services offer a simple, inexpensive and effective alternative to home builders who can't afford an architect, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

In an article in the current issue of the magazine, the editors point out that there is nothing whatever inferior about a house built from a stock plan.

"In terms of structural soundness, these homes are every bit as substantial as other house," the article states. "Most stock plans, in fact, are designed to meet FHA and VA requirements, subject to any special modifications these agencies may impose locally because of local climate, custom or other special considerations."

While meeting these requirements does not insure a superior home, it does indicate adherence to acceptable minimum standards of design and structure."

Noting that "probably only about a quarter of the nation's architects do residential work at all" the article adds that the fee may be anywhere from 8 percent to 15 percent of the cost of the house. On the other hand, stock plans can be ordered by mail, usually for $20 to $35 for a set of four.

"At least 3,000 different home plans, perhaps many more, are available in this way," according to Changing Times. "If you have trouble finding one that suits your building lot, your budget and your family's way of living, just keep on looking. With several thousand open to you, chances are excellent that you can locate a stock plan that comes very close to your ideal."

"What is this thing called recession? With the production of goods and service at an all-time high last year, it seems that the recession was in terms of employment only. But much of this unemployment was technical, i. e., the way kerosene lamp manufacturers were thrown out of business when electricity came in."—Warner News, publication of Warner Brothers Co., Bridgeport.

AUGUST

Chances are good that August will never win a popularity contest. "It is not the heat but the humidity" is a standard conversational gap-filler. Year has gone through the pulsing urgency of spring and the first rush of growth, and plants are now a bit tired looking. Roadside are drab and dusty and fields lie shorn in the sun. Gardens have weeds among the beets and carrots, lettuce and cucumbers.

Man sometimes forgets that time is an essential ingredient of a crop or a life. August is one part of the Great Plan. Time is needed for the life juices to change bud to fruit, even as time is required by a man to learn the basic lessons of successful living.

August is one of the quiet months, but black clouds may billow from the horizon, thunder drums roll and red spears flash. Sometimes when a storm is done, cool invigorating air is welcome relief from the brooding sultriness; sometimes a storm rolls by and the hot stickiness remains.

But as the days pass and a weary summer approaches the close, a man can see the signs.

August brings the gold of the goldenrod and the purple of the thistle. Swamp maples hang out red pennants and the scarlet leaves of woodbine paint colorful pictures on fences and walls.

August is not a favorite period, but it is part of the plan that gives us four seasons of differing climates. When you stand at the edge of a corn field on a hushed eighth month evening and listen to the corn grow, the faint rustle of the leaves is part of the music that is always playing in our flowing world.

"Who actually gets up the money for your vacation? In the last analysis it isn't the company; it's the customers who really pay the bill. And it takes a lot of goods sold to provide those vacations, holidays and other costs of operation!"—Synchronews, publication of General Electric Company.
